

Creative house in Criseni

On a slightly cloudy morning we woke up with difficulty, but we were happy to meet Italian and Hungarian friends even in front of the school. Our mood also was much better and we were cheerful.

On the road towards the destination we were listening to the short story Kőrispatak and despite the gloomy food weather time we expected the arrival. After receiving our food package we went into the museum garden, when we viewed more than 800 stone of stone collection and name plates. Then we were divided into 3 groups Hungarian – Romanian – Italian. While one group was visiting the museum, the others: were spinning straws, learning the basic spinning (seven stages) or angel process. The head of the Museum's uncle, Laos the called professionals from the village, who introduced use how to spin the straw. Unfortunately, we could not do it, because straw hats is not so easy, but spinning straw ornaments or parts there of prepared with enthusiasm. These articles would be taken home by the children. Everyone was eager to participate in these programmes. Perhaps the Museum was the most interesting for everyone, because it presented the history of more than 200 straw hats. After that they could by smaller decorations. After the lunch we went to the guesthouse. The food was very tasty, it was traditional Hungarian food, which was a very big success among foreign friends. After the lunch the guide singing three songs. After that, everyone got a small gift from the Museum.

Sitting in the bus on the road we were singing and went home enjoying our selves. Everyone went back to stay with the families and went to the evening show.
