I use a keyboard with 76 keys to trigger the mQ, therefor it might be useful to transpose some sounds by one octave up or down for use with a smaller master keyboard.

Many of the sounds use the pitchbend controller for other modulation destinations than pitch. There can be some interesting effects if you move the pitchbend and modulation wheels simultaneously.

Nearly all sounds are velocity sensitive and some make use of aftertouch. Arps were usually programmed at a tempo of 120 bpm.

Don't forget to use the mod wheel and pitchbender often ;-)

Have fun
Stefan
